HEZEKIAH COLLINS OF COAL FORK OF LEADING CREEK (1817 - 1903)

HIS BIRTH

Hezekiah Collins was born on February 24, 1817 (a fact obtained from his obituary and supported by the 1900 census of Calhoun County). Although we know the exact date when he was born, the place of his birth is not as certain. According to his obituary, he was born in, "...what was then known as Lewis County." In the 1860 census, Hezekiah Collins claims that he was born in Lewis County, Va., and in the List of Registered Voters for the Sheridan District of Calhoun County in 1869, he again states that he was born in Lewis County.

What's troubling about the location of his birth is that it's uncertain whether it refers to a site in modern-day Lewis County or to a site that was once encompassed within the boundaries of a much larger Lewis County that existed in 1817. There is reason to believe that it could be either. We know that his father, George Collins, was from the area known as Collins Settlement in present-day Lewis County. How long he (George Collins) remained in the Collins Settlement region is unknown, and the phrase "...what was then known as Lewis County," makes it sound as though he may have moved from the Collins Settlement area prior to Hezekiah's birth. It's doubtful that Hezekiah was born within the present-day boundaries of Calhoun County as his obituary states that he (Hezekiah) came to the county. Furthermore, George Collins is not documented as being in the Calhoun County area until 1829, when he purchased a tract of land on Eliases' Run of Leading Creek. Since present-day Lewis and Calhoun Counties seem unlikely places for his birthplace, it may very well be that Hezekiah Collins was born somewhere within the present-day boundaries of Gilmer County, and there is some tenuous evidence to support this thesis. Max Collins of Bridgeport, WV stated in a 1991 letter that Oda Collins Cornell [a grand-daughter of Hezekiah Collins] told him that George Collins moved from Collins Settlement in Lewis County to Gilmer County.

Although we know the date of his birth and have a guess as to the place where he was born, the subject of his parentage has been the center of a small controversy for some years. There are some researchers who have asserted that Hezekiah Collins was the son of Isaac S. Collins and Rachel (Cunningham) Collins of Leading Creek. Such a claim, although repeated in many places, has never been proven and can (in fact) be disproved.

Given that Hezekiah Collins was born in 1817 in what was then known as Lewis County, it follows that he would have been tallied in a Collins household in the 1820 census of Lewis County. In the 1820 census of Lewis County, there are six households headed by a man named Collins. Of these six households, only three are recorded as having males living there who are under the age of 10: the Robert W. Collins household, the Isaac S. Collins household, and the George Collins household. The probate records of Lewis County name the heirs of Robert W. Collins, and there was no Hezekiah Collins listed, so we can rule out the possibility that Robert W. Collins was the father of Hezekiah Collins. This now leaves us with Isaac S. or George as being his father.

Minnie Kendall Lowther's book on the history of Ritchie County contains a list of the children of Isaac S. and Rachel (Cunningham) Collins; there is no Hezekiah listed there. Someone may argue that Lowther's book was full of errors and cannot be trusted, which means that Hezekiah could have been a son of Isaac S. Collins. It is true that Lowther's book is riddled with errors, however, her list of children for Isaac S. and Rachel Collins appears to be accurate when matched up against the census records. If one takes the names in Lowther's book and follows the Isaac S. Collins household from the 1820 census, to the 1830 and 1840 census (matching the names with the gender and count of children in the household), there is a perfect match. There is no room for an extra child nor is there a child missing. There is no "room" in the Isaac S. Collins household for a Hezekiah Collins. By process of elimination, this leaves George Collins as being his father.

In addition to this process of elimination, if one follows the George Collins family from the 1820 to the 1830 census, there is a young man of Hezekiah's age in the household. In the 1840 census of Lewis County, we find Hezekiah Collins as the head of his own household, and there is no young man of Hezekiah's age in the George Collins household. By closely examining the census records, we not only rule out Isaac S. Collins as the father of Hezekiah Collins, but we see the ease with which we can conclude that he was the son of George Collins.

There is one more reason to compel us to believe that George Collins is the father of Hezekiah Collins (although it is not proof). Hezekiah Collins named one of his children Manley, and one of Hezekiah's grandchildren was named Manley. When George Collins sold his land on Eliases' Run of Leading Creek in 1838, he sold it to a Manley Collins who appears to be his son. The name "Manley" is an uncommon one, and it is tempting to think that this Manley Collins was really a brother to Hezekiah Collins.

If we can establish that the father of Hezekiah Collins was George Collins, then who was his mother? It appears that his mother was Mary "Polly" Owens, and there are a number of sources for this. First, when George Collins sold the land on Eliases' Run of Leading Creek to Manley Collins, it stated that it was George and Polly Collins who sold that tract to Manley Collins. Second, in Minnie Kendall Lowther's history of Ritchie County, the biographical sketch on Manley Collins (who later moved to Ritchie County from Calhoun County) states that his mother was "Mrs. Mary Collins". Lastly, in the marriage records of Harrison County, there is a marriage record for a George Collins and a Polly Owens dated March 9, 1809. Although this "proof" is far from ideal, it is the best that has been established at this time.

HIS NAME

There have been some researchers who have asserted that Hezekiah Collins' full name was James Hezekiah Collins. Although this may be true, it should be noted that all the documents that were created during his lifetime list him as Hezekiah Collins save for one. In the 1900 census, Hezekiah Collins is listed as "Collins, Hezekiah J." This is the one and only document that has his name recorded as being anything else except "Hezekiah". If his name was James Hezekiah Collins, he surely had a preference to go by "Hezekiah".

The source for his name as being James Hezekiah Collins comes largely through oral history; nevertheless, it has many supporters. In response to a question regarding Hezekiah's name, Max Collins (of Bridgeport, WV) reported that Hezekiah once made a shotgun out of an old rifle, and he named his shotgun "Old J.H."

In spite of what his 'real' name was, it appears that Hezekiah Collins was more commonly known by a nickname. One source stated that many people called him "Carr". The nickname "Carr" appears to have no meaning, but I think its source can be unlocked, and it is the local speech patterns that hold the key. Many of the old-timers along Leading Creek (and much of Calhoun County) spoke in such a way that "r's" were added to words and names that ended with an "ah" sound, so that someone named "Diannah" would be called "Dianner". In the same way, I believe that Hezekiah was probably called

"Hezekier", which was shortened to "Kier" (the '-kiah' portion of "Hezekiah"). It's tempting to think that whomever recorded Hezekiah Collins nickname as being "Carr" was really hearing the name "Kier", which when slurred a little will sound like "Carr".

HIS EARLY LIFE AND MARRIAGE

The obituary for Hezekiah Collins states that, "He was one of the pioneers of this county, having come here when it was a 'howling wilderness' and having literally hewn his way out." For the moment, the only idea we have of when he came to Calhoun County was when his father bought a 100-acre tract on Leading Creek in 1829. Hezekiah would have been a twelve year-old boy at that time, and it sounds as though he may have had to help his father clear the land and establish a home. Such hard work may have left little or no time for schooling. In two different census records (1870 and 1900), Hezekiah Collins reports that he is unable to read and write.

Another biographical fact that we get from Hezekiah Collins obituary is that, "He joined the M.P. [Methodist Protestant] church in early life and remained a member ever since...." In 1830, the Methodist Church split into the Methodist Episcopal and Methodist Protestant Churches. The Methodist Protestant disliked the authoritarian structure of the Methodist Episcopal church and wanted a greater role for lay people in the church. Knowing this, it's plausible to think that Hezekiah Collins' choice of faith was the product of a frontiersman's no-nonsense view of the world and a dislike of authority. What makes his choice of faith even more interesting is that his father (George Collins) is thought to have been a Roman Catholic.

Hezekiah Collins married Roanna Maze sometime in 1838 or 1839. She was the daughter of Beniah and Elizabeth Maze, and was born around 1824. She was most likely born and raised in the Sheridan District of Calhoun County, and her marriage to Hezekiah Collins probably took place in Calhoun County. There have been many researchers who have looked for a marriage record for Hezekiah and Roanna in the courthouses of the counties that were extant at the time of their marriage, but no record of their marriage has ever been found.

HEZEKIAH AND ROANNA'S LIFE TOGETHER

Once they were married, Hezekiah and Roanna Collins made their home in the Leading Creek area. There are no records to indicate that Hezekiah and Roanna occupied the same home during their married life. Rather, they may have lived in various places in the Leading Creek area over the decades. Hezekiah Collins first shows up as a land owner in 1847. Gilmer County tax records show that Hezekiah purchased 50 acres of land on Lower Leading Creek in 1847 and held it until he sold it in 1852. Their last home was a log home on the Coal Fork of Leading Creek near the present-day home of Manley O. Collins of Freed.

Hezekiah made his living primarily as a farmer, and may have also earned some income blacksmithing. Roanna kept house as did most women of her time. Although Hezekiah was unable to read or write, Roanna was able to read and write.

The 1850 census for the Hezekiah Collins household shows a couple in their 30's raising their young family. By 1860, the household had grown and had become an extended family of sorts. Roanna's aged mother, Elizabeth Maze, had moved in with them. There is also a young girl by the name of Elizabeth Collins living with them. Lastly, there is an 11 year-old boy name Abram Board who is staying with them. The identity of this lad is unknown.

During the Civil War, Hezekiah and Roanna's family may have left the area to avoid the destruction that the war brought to the area. In the List of Registered Voters for 1869, Hezekiah declared that he had been a resident of the county and state for five years and zero months. The longest recorded time that anyone on that voter list claims to have been a resident of the state and county was six years and two months. If West Virginia became a state on June 20, 1863, it would mean that the voter registration list was created sometime around August the 20th in 1869. This would also allow us to conclude that Hezekiah Collins and family had returned to their farm sometime around August of 1864 (assuming that they left in the first place).

Soon after the close of the war, Hezekiah and Roanna's "nest" began to empty as many of their daughters married Civil War veterans who had returned home. By 1870, the census shows a family that was much smaller than it was ten years earlier. It also shows that Hezekiah, despite his lack of education, managed to acquire some wealth. His real estate is valued at $660 and his personal property is valued at $335, totaling to $995. This would seem to point to a mental shrewdness on the part of Hezekiah Collins. Was he intelligent? Earlier, it was stated that he once made a shotgun out of an old rifle. If an idiot tried such a feat, he would not live long to tell of his accomplishment, but Hezekiah seems to have lived a long, natural life.

There is another interesting fact that we learn from the 1870 census: of the boys remaining at home (Lorenzo Dow, James Hezekiah and Manley), they are listed as being unable to read and write. Roanna remains the only literate member of the household. This fact is supported further by a promissory note found in the Calhoun County Law Court file of John E. Hays vs. Hezekiah Collins et al.. The promissory note in this case was dated August 18, 1871, and Hezekiah, along with his sons Lorenzo and Hezekiah J., signed the document with "X"s. Looking at such facts, it's tempting to think that Hezekiah may have placed little or no value on formal schooling. Since he was modestly successful and had no formal education with which to credit it, the facts lend themselves to a picture of a man who believed that his children would learn better at home rather than waste their time at school.

In the May term of 1873 for the Circuit Court of Calhoun County, there exists the interesting case of the State of West Virginia vs. Roanna Collins. It states that in May of 1873, Roanna Collins assaulted a man named A. J. Rogers and, "...did then and there, beat, wound and ill treat, and did other wrongs to him...." Roanna Collins would have been in her fifties when this happened; the "A. J. Rogers" mentioned is Ai J. Rogers of Freed, who was about 30 years old at the time and a Civil War veteran (Co. "C", 11th WVA Vol. Inf.). It makes one wonder what happened between Ai Rogers and Roanna Collins to goad her into striking him. In the Law Court term for October 1873, the jury was convinced that Roanna Collins had committed a crime as they found her guilty of the charges, but the jury must have thought that the measure of her wrong-doing was a trifle as they fined her one cent for her assault on Ai Rogers.

RETIREMENT AND DEATH

The 1880's appear to have been a time of slowing down for Hezekiah and Roanna Collins. The 1880 census shows Hezekiah and Roanna as a couple in their sixties. Manley is now the only child that they have living at home with them. There is also a young woman named Alice Turner who is living with them. Although she is not listed as a housekeeper or a servant, it would make sense that she is one. It is reasonable to think that Manley, the bachelor son, would help his father with various chores on the farm and Alice Turner would help Roanna with some of her household chores.

Hezekiah's obituary states that, "For a number of years, he had been unable to work and has been cared for by his youngest son, Manly." It seems that 1882 was the year that Hezekiah chose to "retire" from farming. There are four deeds in the Calhoun County courthouse--all dated January 16, 1882--where he sold-off his farmland to four of his children: James Hezekiah, Malinda Cornell, Lorenzo D., and Manley, who received the land with the homeplace. What's interesting to note is that Hezekiah seems to have asked for market value payment for the properties that he sold. Whereas many parents at that time would sell large tracts of land to their children for a dollar, Hezekiah asked them to pay at least $150 for the land they received. He seems to have also insisted on having the deeds recorded in the courthouse. This may have been his way of preventing disputes given his experience with a bitter, ten-year court fight among his in-laws (the Maze heirs) over a large tract of land.

Just before her death, Roanna requested that a cedar tree be planted at the head of her grave. This request was fulfilled after her death around the year 1892, when she was buried in the Collins Cemetery (sometime called the Nicholas Cemetery) on Coal Fork of Leading Creek. The tree grew and grew for many years. It was recently cut down when the cemetery was restored and a new marker placed on her grave.

The 1900 census shows Hezekiah as living with his son Manley (and Manley's young family). According to his obituary, he remained active in the M.P. church at Mt. Zion, but was in poor health in his last years. The obituary gave a detailed account on his last illness, which began on Friday, October 9, 1903. On that day, he took to bed and did not leave his room (in the Manley Collins home) until October 11th. He went to the dinner table that evening, but fell ill again and had to be taken back to his room. He remained in his bed until the 19th of October when he insisted on getting up. Family members helped him out of bed, he took a few steps and stood for about five minutes. He then had to return to bed. He died on Wednesday, October 21, 1903 at 3:55 in the morning.

He was buried next to his wife in the Collins (or Nicholas) Cemetery. For years, their graves were marked with fieldstones that were kept whitewashed by Manley and Wanoka Collins of Freed. By 1991, Manley and Wanoka Collins had restored the cemetery, placing a fence around it and placing a granite marker over the graves of Hezekiah and Roanna.

HISTORICAL SKETCHES

By Robert L. Bland

Alexander Scott Withers

In the old cemetery on the hill, conveyed to the trustees of Weston in 1820, repose the remains of Alexander Scott Withers, a one time distinguished citizen of Lewis County and author of Chronicles of Border Warfare, the well-known authority on border wars and history of local tradition in the western country. He was the son of Enoch K. Withers and Jennet Chinn Withers, his wife, whose home was near Warrenton, in Fauquier County. He was born on the 12th of October 1792, and died near Parkersburg, on the 23rd of January, 1865. His mother was a first cousin of Sir Walter Scott.

In a memoir written by Dr. Lyman Copeland Draper, it is said: "Passing his early years in home and private schools, he became from childhood a lover of books and knowledge. He read Virgil at the early age of ten; and, in due time, entered Washington College, and thence entered the law department of the venerable institution of William and Mary, where Jefferson, Monroe, Wythe, and other Virginia notables received their education."

Mr. Withers was married to Miss Melinda Fisher in 1815, whilst they still resided in the Northern Neck of Virginia. About 1827 he removed with his family to Harrison County, remaining for a period at Bridgeport. Later he removed to Clarksburg where, as his biographer says, "he devoted much time in collecting materials for and writing his Chronicles of Border Warfare." Subsequently he removed to Lewis County and resided on a farm on the West Fork River between Weston and Jane Lew. On the 9th of September, 1840, Governor Thomas W. Gilmer appointed Mr. Withers a Justice of the Peace for Lewis County, and he served for a period as a member of the old county court. After his appointment and qualification as a Justice, William McKinley objected to his acting in that capacity for alleged reason that he had vacated his commission by accepting the office of Commissioner in Bankruptcy under the government of the United States. This objection was interposed by Mr. McKinley on the 9th of June, 1845, but the court did not seem to think that the ground assigned amounted to disqualification. With the exception of the two positions mentioned and that of being a member of the First Wheeling Convention May 1, 1861, Mr. Withers held no other office during his long and useful career.

Dr. Draper further speaks of him as follows: "Mr. Withers had no talent for the acquisition of wealth; but he met with marked success in acquiring knowledge. He was an admirer of ancient literature, and to his last days read the Greek Classics in the original. A rare scholar, a lover of books, his tastes were eminently domestic; he was from his nature, much secluded from the busy world around him. Nearly six feet high, rather portly and dignified, as shown by his portrait taken when he was about sixty years of age – he was kind and obliging to all, and emphatically a true Virginia Gentleman of the old school."

It is hardly necessary to refer to Chronicles of Border Warfare. As an historical publication it has always been highly regarded. It was published in Clarksburg by Joseph Israel and is said that it did not prove in any respect remunerative to Mr. Withers. "He used to say," states Dr. Draper, "that had he published the volume himself he would have made it much more complete, and better in many ways; for he was hampered, limited and hurried – often correcting proof of the early, while writing the later chapters." A volume of the original edition is rare and highly treasured by everyone who may be so fortunate as to possess it. This splendid publication has much to say about the early history of the county. Much of the work of Mr. Withers in its preparation was done in the county. It has been said that a great deal of the original data was furnished by William Powers and William Hacker both pioneer citizens, and former justices of the peace. In "Border Settlers," by L. V. McWhorter, the author publishes a letter addressed to him under date of January 23rd, 1898, by Levi Bond, then eighty-two years of age, in which the writer says: *"Your letter received, and in reply will say, I am a grandson of William Powers, one of the men who got up Border Warfare; William Hacker was the other. This work lay dormant in their hands for many years. Hacker passed away first. Powers purchased Hacker's interest in the work, and it lay in his hands until 1831, when Joseph Israel editor in Clarksburg bought the manuscripts and arranged for its publication by employing Alexander Scott Withers to prepare it for the press. Accordingly Mr. Withers took up the work, and after he had it about half completed some friend told him that he was likely to get nothing for his labor, and that Israel was poor and could not raise the amount of money agreed upon. Mr. Withers did not want to leave the work in that condition and said, 'I will dispose of it in some shape.' So he ran through the most notable and prominent features, leaving the balance entirely out.. * * * This is the history that my grandfather gave me of the work from his own lips. My grandfather lived on a farm adjoining Jane Lew, about three miles from Withers' office and was there several times while Withers was preparing the work, and he told me these things himself."* It is said that Mr. Withers only received two or three copies of the book for all of his labor in its preparation. Mr. McWhorter in referring to the matter says: "It is little wonder that Mr. Withers became discouraged and lost interest in his noble but arduous task. A less energetic and patriotic man would have dropped the work entirely when it became apparent that there would be no compensation for his labor. All honor to Mr. Withers."

By reason of his scholarly attainments and authorship of Border Warfare, Alexander Scott Withers occupied a position of distinction and was one of the most prominent of the many prominent personages who have made Lewis County their home. It was very appropriate that his mortal remains should be laid to rest in the old cemetery on the hill with friends of former days. When the local Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution was organized it was given the name of Alexander Scott Withers, and thereafter made marked improvements in the above mentioned historical burying ground.

On the 8th of July, 1913, the following order was entered by the Circuit Court of Lewis County in relation to Weston's first cemetery:

Whereas, Lewis Maxwell and Daniel Stringer, by deed appearing of record in the office of the Clerk of the County Court of Lewis County, in Deed Book B, at page 85, dated 14th day of August 1820, conveyed to Henry McWhorter, Palzer Butcher, William Peterson, James M. Camp and Albert Collins, a parcel of land adjoining or near to the town of Weston, on the side of the hill, opposite the South end of the said town, containing about one acre, to be held by them as trustees for the use of the town and its vicinity, for a public burying yard for those who might die in said town, and vicinity, and as a site for a church; and whereas said trustees have died, leaving their places vacant; and whereas the said cemetery has grown up in briers and rubbish, and has been open to pasturing stock, owing to want of fencing, and has long been neglected; and, whereas, the Daughters of the American Revolution have by their representatives on this occasion expressed a desire to take charge of said burial ground and keep it in a condition fitting it as a place for the repose of the dead, it is now ordered that Verona Maple Brannon, Emma Harrison Ralston, Amanda Bland Heath and Prudence Arnold McClellan, be and they are hereby appointed trustees in place of those above named deceased ones, with like powers under said deed as those deceased had, and such powers as the law may give, to have charge of said burial place, and hold it as trustees as a place for the repose of those dead now interred in it, and for the burial of those who may hereafter die in said Weston and its vicinity, those above named so appointed trustees being members of and representing the Alexander Scott Withers Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

We have relatives buried in the burial ground referred to in above proposed order, and request its entry July 8, 1913.

UPPER GLADY SCHOOL HOUSE

This story about the one room school house on Upper Glady is written by Ellie McClain Maroon and dedicated to her father, Troy D. McClain, age 89, of Buckhannon and his sister, Margaret McClain Mackey, age 90, of Cameron, who were raised on Upper Glady and attended school there.

The story of the school house on Upper Glady could scarce be written without mentioning the Bennett and McClain families. Education has always been important to the family. Family tradition says that James McCauley, father of Rebecca McCauley Bennett, was a very well educated man, spoke seven languages, and spent much of his later years in educating his twelve Bennett grandchildren. History shows that the Bennett family has always been involved in community affairs and political positions.

Early ancestors of the Bennetts were from England and were of the sterling traits of character found in many of the English who first settled the United States. Joseph Bennett, the first of the line was born in New Jersey, his father having emigrated from London. Later he settled in Pendleton County, Virginia. Joseph's son, William, purchased land in Lewis County from George Jackson and in the spring of 1801 a band of pioneers made their way through the forests of Pendleton County, Virginia to western Virginia toward the upper waters of the West Fork of the Monongahela River. In the party were William Bennett, his wife, Rebecca McCauley Bennett, and their four children; William's three brothers; and in all probability Rebecca's father, James McCauley.

Rebecca McCauley was a talented and well educated girl who met and married William Bennett in 1784. They had a family of twelve children, four born in Pendleton County, and the rest in Lewis County, West Virginia.

The Bennett group settled on a tributary of the West Fork later to be called Bennett's Run in the Collins Settlement area. The Bennetts were fruit growers and propagated apples from seeds which they brought with them from the Potomac valley. The Bennetts were known for their orchards.

The progress made in the Collins Settlement area was largely in nature of the extensive clearings. At the forks of the river William Bennett established a mill, prior to 1820, which became the nucleus of the present village of Walkersville. A post office was established there under the name of Bennett's Mill about 1835, and a polling place was established in Bennett's home in 1838. Sons of William and Rebecca took up land near their father. One of these was James McCauley Bennett who owned the land where the Upper Glady school stands today.

The school house was built, possibly in 1890 (the first teacher I found recorded was 1891-92). The school is located up a gravel road, deep in a Lewis County hollow, near the Upshur County line. The building is now owned by Richard Hoover, Buckhannon, county school superintendent, who inherited it from his father in 1950.

The land was owned by James McCauley Bennett and in his will, dated October 3, 1903, he left the 291 acre farm to his daughter and son, William H., to be shared equally. Hattie married Robert McClain on April 8, 1906. In a deed dated February 26, 1908, Robert McClain purchased William's portion of the farm. It is stated in the deed that one-eighth of an acre will be reserved for the school house located there. Robert and Hattie built a large two story white house on the land she had inherited, just a short distance from the school house. This is where my dad, Troy McClain and my Aunt Margaret McClain Mackey were raised and attended school in their early years.

Not long after Robert and Hattie bought William's half of the farm, they sold half to Gilbert Simons.

When Hattie Bennett McClain died, her will dated March 1, 1912 left the farm to her husband, Robert McClain. In a deed dated September 23, 1936, Robert McClain and his second wife, Maude Reeder McClain, sold the farm to Charles Fox (my dad remembers that a man named Erve owned the land after Fox). Then the Hoovers were the owners.

Through all these wills, deeds and owners the little one-room school house survived and was used as a school until approximately 1959-60 when the last teacher was recorded.

The McClains had many teachers, preachers and civic minded people in their history also. So, with both side of the family being interested in the school and education, no wonder it survived for all these years.

I have a pretty complete listing of teachers that I have compiled from the records in the county office, my dad's memory and information from Betty Wimer, former teacher. My dad was very proud of the fact that his mother, Hattie Bennett McClain, taught at the school one year, shortly before her marriage.

Teachers on record at the county office:

1891-1892 - Sallie Bird	1892-1893 - Drugie Paugh
1893-1894 - Kate Smith	1895-1896 - Delie Sanders
1896-1897 - A.E. Smith	1897-1898 - M.D. Lewis
1899-1900 - Ocie Westfall	1899-1900 - Maude Westfall
1903-1904 - Hattie Bennett	1904-1905 - Nathan Rexroad

The county office did not have any teachers recorded from 1905-1923, so I will list what my dad gave me, from his memory, of his own teachers:

1914-1915 - Mary Berry	1915-1916 - Mae Bennett
1916-1917 - Clay Weimer	1917-1918 - Zedie Weimer
1918-1919 - Brentice Crawford	1919-1920 - _____ Mick 1/2 year
1919-1920 - Robert McClain 1/2 yr. (my gr.-father)	1920-1921 - Goin Kincaid

The next list of teachers were provided by Betty Jean Wimer, a former teacher at Upper Glady. She did not know all the years, but these are the teachers she remembers:

Pearl Wimer	Ruth Wilfong	Evelyn Bowyer	Blain Rollyson
Dallas Reger	Hobart Mick	Betty Jean Wimer	Garney Teter
	4 yrs. 1942-1946	8 yrs. 1946-1954
Charles McIntosh	Nina Craig	Virginia McWhorther	Ronald Farnsworth
Hazel Loudin

It took quite a bit of hard work to keep things going at a school like Upper Glady. The teacher had to do many menial tasks and doing the chores was just a part of the job. Usually some of the older boys were also asked to help out, coal had to be carried in from the coal bin outside and the fire had to be fed regularly. The pump for drinking, washing hands, and faces and any other use they had for water, was (and still is) outside the door. The "bathrooms" were little buildings out back that had to be used no matter how cold it got! Things were hard, but it was just a part of everyday life and no one knew the difference.

Many community activities took place at these one room school houses; basket dinners, spelling bees, town meetings, etc.

It was not all chores, readin', 'riting' and 'rithmatic and hickory switches at the country school. At recess and lunch hours there was time to play and the games were things the children thought up themselves. There was not a lot of equipment, maybe a ball (soft or hard) and whatever they had they used. Bases were laid out and used by all the players. Games like dodge ball, red rover, double tap, skip rope (if one could be found), marbles, hop scotch and any other thing a child could dream up, or bring from home. All was unorganized and mostly unsupervised, but all were happy and had a good time (except for the times when there were squabbles and fights). Since the children had to walk so far to school and had to play outside there was no such thing as physical education classes. They got their exercise walking everywhere they went and playing and working hard.

Last October when I was in West Virginia I visited with Betty Weimer and she told me that the McClain place had a very good fresh water spring and that she and the children would stop there for drinks as they walked to and from the school house. Betty said she actually had a car when she was teaching at the school, but she walked up the road, because if she had driven she would have been expected to stop and pick up the children and she would basically have been providing bus service.

THE OLD COUNTY SCHOOL

How much we learned in that old country school,
It is so great to recall
The place where we lived by the Golden Rule.
The schoolhouse often was drafty and cool
Yet we eagerly traipsed there each fall.

Each day began-dare it be said
And to this day most of us show it
With prayer, then a passage was read,
Please God, may we never outgrow it!

The flag pledge was then said by all,
How little then anyone knew.
And Thrilling it is to recall
In memories that seem almost new,
The student, in rows, standing tall
To honor the red, white and blue.

We would oft sing a gentle refrain
'Bout Swanee or Old Black Joe.
I've since heard professors explain
We were racist, though we didn't know.
Our readers were about Dick and Jane,
How sexist can little minds grow?

By rote then, the tables we learned
Why did they our potential fetter?

This method had long since been spurned,
But surely the new math is no better.
With grammar we were so concerned,
And words--we could spell every letter.

Be honest, be kind, and be good
To all folks, no matter what is done by others.
We must do all that we could
For all were our sisters and brothers.
And we learned that all children should
Honor their fathers and mothers.

Our clothes were often worn and patched
But they, and we, were clean;
I 'pose the colors weren't always matches,
We weren't there just to be seen.
Our hair didn't look like a chicken just hatched,
And it was never dyed blue or green.

At times we crowded the stove to stay warm,
Eight grades shared the same room.
I'm sure such conditions must have done us great harm,
Dark clouds on our future would loom
Strange it is --most of us seemed to weather the storm
When it should have sealed our doom.

Safe sex wasn't even a subject back then,
We didn't know what it meant to be gay.
We thought that it meant to be happy, and then

We became disillusioned today.
Grass grew on lawns or meadows, and when
It was cut, cured and baled it was hay!

Our teacher—oh, why did she do it?
It must have been so demeaning,
She swept the floors, and scrubbed them
clean,
And all of the other cleaning!
She built the fire in the stove,
there was little time for preening.

And cruel—there was much she hadn't been taught;
Why, one time she used the old ruler
Oh, why was she so overwrought?
We had merely tipped over the cooler.
It was simply because the two of us fought;

We fibbed—but we didn't fool her.

I suppose our learning wasn't much
Nor will it open any doors.
There are those who say we are out of touch;
I'm glad we were taught our mores.
There was little time for drugs and such
When we hurried home for chores!

We missed out on a lot of good learning I've read.

Perhaps I am just an old fool,
I'm thankful that I had a teacher that said
We should live by the old Golden Rule!
And I'm glad for the path 'cross the meadow that led
To the door of that old country school.

The last day of school not only heralded "no more teachers 'cross-eyed looks," but it marked the beginning of real living for the kids in country areas. There were fish to be caught, hills to be climbed, forest trails to be explored, camp-outs under the stars, and any number of idyllic activities to stretch a child's imagination.

After collecting the final report card, the students streaked for home, tossed their books and papers in a corner, and shed school clothes and shoes for the summer. From that day on they would be in blue jeans or shorts, usually no shirt and no shoes. Unencumbered by shoes and other needless apparel, one of the first rites of summer vacation was a headlong run up the "crick" to the old swimming hole.

Also to be looked to was the warm days of May.

BAREFOOT SUMMERS

by Madeline Nunnally

from the magazine "Good Old Times", May 1989

I remember Mama would always say we could take off our shoes the first day of May. Sometimes the ground would still be cool as we walked to school. This was a special time of year, school nearly out and summer near. We'd shed long stockings and shoes that laced, and all get together and to the creek we raced. Wading in the water and running through fields, no worry about stubbing toes or skinning heels. The happiest times when we gathered to play were our barefoot summers that began in May.

I hope the old school house on Upper Glady can be kept up and repaired so many generations can see how it was long ago in the old school houses.

Hopefully more of the descendants of the Bennett and McClain families can come see what the old school house looks like that their ancestors considered so important.

For the last two years several hardy and enthusiastic former students and teachers make the trek up the hollow once a year to meet and reminiscence about the years of the old school.

And lastly I hope my father, Troy McClain and my Aunt Margaret can live to see many more reunions of the students and teachers from the old school and are able to enjoy them.

*My dad has been able to attend the two they have held so far and enjoyed them very much. The first year he was proud to be the oldest person there, then last year Earl Hoover came and he was the oldest person there with my dad running a very close second.

Thanks to the Hoovers for restoring the old school and letting stand, what may possibly be one of the oldest one room school houses remaining in West Virginia that's still used for reunions, and gatherings of people. Many of these buildings have been torn down for more farming land, or are being used for storage of hay, etc.

I am very proud of my Bennett and McClain ancestors and would enjoy answering letters from anyone who might care to write. If you have questions, if you have corrections to what I have written or if you'd just like to say hi!. Write me.

*Troy D. McClain won the prize for being the oldest returning student at the 1996 reunion.

Early Recollections of the Town of Weston

Time Changes All Things

"Weston Democrat" February 20, 1892

Written for The Democrat:

I once heard a good story which I will repeat in this connection. There was a man who had been extensively engaged in buying and selling cattle, was very prompt in paying until he had gotten his credit well established and began to buy on credit. He bought up all the cattle in the country, drove them off and sold them for the cash, procured a large hollow reed, fashioned it up nicely as a walking cane with a socket on the small end, twisted up his bank bills in as small a compass as possible and stored them in his cane. He had it capped with a piece of German silver with his name engraved on the top, then notified his creditors that he was broke, whereupon they instituted proceedings against him, had him arrested and locked up in jail. When he signified his intention to swear out, as it was called, the Justice was notified, took his code and wended his way to the Court House and ordered the man brought before him. He was brought in leaning on his staff. When he approached the Justice he handed him his cane, saying, Sir, this is all I possess in this world, except the clothes which I have on. The Justice took the cane and set it in the corner, administered the oath, as prescribed, and when through the old man said, Sir, as I am an old man and getting tottery I presume you will give me back my cane. Oh, yes, said the Justice, taking the cane and handing it back, and the old man went on his way rejoicing that the Justice had given him back his fortune. But aside from joking, you will see that the Sheriff of that day was compelled to do a great many things that was very unpleasant to them as well as to those who had to endure the loss of their property during that year. I saw some three or four men in the jail for debt. By the consent of the creditors the County Court would make an order to let those debtors out of jail by their giving bond and good security to keep inside of a certain boundary. The boundary was as follows: From the mill on First street to Centre Street, thence down Centre to its intersection with Pike, thence with Pike to the West side of Main street, thence with Main South to the mill. If they transcended this boundary by as much as one foot their bond may become liable for the debt. In the fall of 1844 there was as many as four who had taken the bounds. The most of the debts for which they were incarcerated were security debts. The former Sheriff had ___ for a considerable amount and he as well as his securities were in the bounds. Philip Cox was the defaulting Sheriff. The Democrats of Weston organized a Democratic Club that fall and appointed Col. Philip Cox as the President of the Club, thinking, I suppose, that as he could not leave the town that he would be prompt in attendance. I remember that he made a fine looking and dignified presiding officer as he was a large, portly, fine looking man.

I have given you a short and I know a very imperfect sketch of all the Sheriffs but one, the Junior of the lot, I mean W. E. Arnold. I would take him at that time to be about twenty-five years of age; in height about 6 feet, stood very erect, of fine proportion; a young man of great and lofty aspirations, determined to make his mark high up on the ladder of fame, industrious, persevering and a hard student, very neat and tasty in his appearance and dress. He combined the study of law with the Sherifffaity. He was a prompt collector, a good Sheriff and acquitted himself with honor to the people and much credit to himself.

And now, Mr. Editors, with your permission I shall endeavor to describe the appearance of the town, the condition of its streets, & c. The town at that day presented rather a dilapidated appearance. The dwellings, or most of them had never come in contact with the painter's brush, but few of the houses were finished, some of them had one room, some two finished and the rest postponed to a future time. Col. J. M. Camp resided on the McDonnell corner, Cabel Tavenner where Mrs. Egan now resides, the Rev. Jonathan Holt where Mrs. Tierney resides. There was a small frame building standing on the corner where Mr. John Morrison's store now stands. Col. Camp had erected a small portion of the store house now occupied by Mr. A. A. Lewis. The Hoffman and Camden store where W. L. Dunnington's store now stands. Then came the old hotel kept by Major Bailey. On the corner where the Bailey house now stands stood an old dilapidated frame building, in one room of which Dr. N. B. Barnes kept his office. Then came Mr. E. Fisher's one-story frame building, next was a small one-story on the Mooney property, now owned by Mr. A. Edmiston. The Mrs. Dr. Barnes' dwelling, as I have before mentioned, was in course of construction, the next was a one story where Mr. W. E. Lively now resided. It was occupied by Mr. John Flesher, the next was the Mrs. T. A. Edwards unfinished. There was a one-story frame stood where the Mrs. Dr. Edmiston dwelling now stands, occupied by Mr. Conrad Kester, the next is the Geo. Ross dwelling then owned and occupied by Mr. John Morrow Sr. There was an old house stood where the M. E. Church Parsonage now stands, part log and part frame, then comes a small frame on the lot where Mr. A. C. Hale's fine brick now stands, then owned and occupied by Joseph Minter, next comes the only brick building that the West side of Main street boasted, that stood where now stands the substantial and commodious residence of Mr. M. W. Harrison. This completes all the residences of the West side of Main street. Now, we will take the East side, commencing with the brick owned by Mr. A. A. Warren, then owned and occupied by the Rev. John Talbott; the next was an old one-story frame situated on the lot now owned by W. H. Hudnell and occupied by Benjamin Pritchard; the next was a one story and a half frame on the lot where the Presbyterian Church now stands, occupied by Mrs. Mary Wilson, from thence we come to the lot now occupied by Benjamin Pritchard; the frame was up and covered but was not finished and is not finished yet. There was a small one-story frame on the lot where Dr. Brown now resides, then owned and occupied by Mr. John R. Beall; then we come to the Mrs. Judge Edmiston dwelling, then owned and occupied by Col. Addison McLaughlin. On the Bank corner stood an old rambling one-story frame, owned by the firm of Hoffman and Camden, unoccupied. On the Ross corner another old and rickety two-story frame owned by the same firm and occupied by Isaac P. McBride; then a string of old shops until we come to the vacant lot laying between The Democrat building and William and Davisson's hardware store. Col. McKinley owned and occupied an old two-story frame and the late Allen Simpson owned and occupied a very neat and small two-story frame. There was no building on the Paddy Dyer corner, but up the alley some forty feet J. M. Bennett had his law office in a small one-story frame building and we come to the Troxeli corner where the same old store house stood until consumed in the big fire some two years ago; this brings us to Bud Dawson's fine saloon on the corner of First and Main street. We will now start up on the South side of First street with Maj. Bland's hotel all vacant from the hotel until we strike the East corner of Centre Street, where W. W. Brannon now resides. On the corner of the lot there was a large two-story frame, owned by John Lorentz and occupied by A. K. Hailoway, from there it was a cornfield. We will now take the North side of First street. There was an old hewed log house stood where Lynch's grocery now stands owned by M. Edmiston and occupied by Preston Dawson; next we come to the late W. E. Arnold corner. There stood a small one story frame with two rooms, unoccupied at that time. We will now start down on the West side of Centre street. From the corner just mentioned the first house we come to is the old frame where Mrs. Darlington now resides. It was owned by J. M. Bennett and occupied by Capt. G. W. Jackson. Then we take a leap from there to the old Bank corner where Judge W. G. Bennett now resides. There was an old and very inferior two story brick house, owned by the Hon. Lewis Maxwell and occupied by G. W. Sleeth, and Col. John McWhorter occupied one room as a law office. From there we make a long leap down to John Luke's nice and tidy brick. On that lot James Bennett had erected a one-story frame, owned and occupied it. And now we will end the West side with a small old fashioned frame one-story on the lot where W. F. Lewellen's neat and commodious dwelling now stand, then owned by Lewis Maxwell and occupied by Wm. Smith. And now we will turn and take up the South side of Centre and as we go along we will admire the fine and luxuriant grass growing in Mr. Lewis Maxwell's meadow and the meadow lark as they sore up to meet the rays of the morning sun, as all that portion of the town East of Centre street and on both sides of Pike was one vast meadow until we come to where Dr. W. J. Bland's fine and commodious residence now stands. There was a two-story brick of a very old-fashioned design and in a very dilapidated condition, owned and occupied by the Hon. Lewis Maxwell himself. Now we cross the alley and come to the old fashioned frame building owned and occupied by Mrs. Lazell. And now we come to the Court House and jail, and such a Court House, Mr. Editors, it would make you laugh to see such a building. It was constructed of brick, two-stories high, with a cupola enormously high, all out of proportion, and when the wind would blow, which it often did, it would sway the hole(sic) building. It was after the style of most of the dwellings, only partly finished. The jury rooms were unplastered. In fact it never was finished. The jail was built of sand stone. The flues in the chimneys were so large that prisoners would climb up them.

The McKinney's Run School

submitted by Mary Frances West

The McKinney's Run School house was built in 1867 in Grant District, Harrison County, West Virginia. There have been 37 teachers and some of them taught 2 or 3 terms. Twelve of the students who went to this school taught in this same school in later years. A good many of these teachers taught only 4 months in the year and received only $30 or $35 a month salary. In later years the salary was raised to $95 a month, and they taught 8 instead of 4 months a year. Many of these teachers taught the McGuffey's Readers and Ray's Arithmetic. They taught writing, grammar, reading, geography, spelling, and arithmetic; some of them taught Algebra.

The teachers who taught at McKinney's Run School were: David Smith, Columbus McWhorter, Rebecca McWhorter, Jackson Davisson, Burgett Swisher, Mollie Swisher, Ambrose West, Laura West, Presley Davisson, Samuel Davis, Delia Criss, Edward Curry, Elias McWhorter, Henrietta Hornor, William Cook, Olandus West, Guy Davisson, Icie Williams, Meleta Davis, Judson Ward, Miss McLaughlin, Iva Moffett, Mary Riggerbach, Eva Samples, Miss Bond, Alma McWhorter, Edward Freeman, Nora Davisson, Leslie Allman, Marie Parrish, Reggie Curtis, Miss Bennett, Mary Swisher, Opal Simmons, Myrtle Collins, Thelma Means and Floris Davisson.

Oh, those dear happy school days of long ago,
Where I went riding on my sled and playing in the snow,
Where I spent my childhood days and where I had my fun,
In this same school still standing on McKinney's Run!

1. COLE, CORDER, ELLIOTT: Trying to locate the Bible of WILLIAM & ELIZABETH COLE of Fox Grape Run, Barbour County, WV. The Bible was featured in an article in the Clarksburg, WV newspapers in the 1930's. At that time it was in the possession of LANDER R. CORDER of 772 E. Main St., Clarksburg. MR. WALTER M. ELLIOTT of Preston St., Clarksburg, used the Bible during his research on the ELLIOTT and COLE families. I merely want to see the Bible. Contact: Lyle K. Corder, 13 Crestview Terrace, Bridgeport, WV 26330.

2. I am currently trying to discover for sure who the parents are for JEREMIAH b.1780 and RACHEL CURL b. 1781. I have seen them both under children of WILLIAM CURL and SARAH BROWN and I have seen them listed both together and separately under parentage of others. JEREMIAH m. MARGARET SWISHER and RACHEL m. JACOB SWISHER, Aug. 19, 1799 Harrison Co., WV. Jacob and Rachel are my gggg grandparents. I know that they moved to Clarke Co., OH and then to Dewitt, IL. Their offspring are still there. However, there are many mysteries surrounding this relationship. For instance, Jacob d. in 1818 in Clarke Co., OH, yet I found court papers giving Rachel custody of three or four children that have always been thought to be hers. Then, I find that three years after Rachel and Jacob were married, JACOB married ROSANNA RICHARDS, Aug. 12, 1802, also in Harrison Co., WV. Now, Rachel and Jacob have eight children! How does this happen? Was he divorced from Rachel? He moves with her to OH? Did Rosanna and Jacob have children that Rachel takes custody of? Did Rosanna die immediately after the marriage? Jacob is not often mentioned as a son of Peter Swisher Sr. from Switzerland. Was he disowned?, or is he truly the son of another SWISHER? If the answers to any of these questions can be found I can take my quest back another generation, which I have many leads and much information. I have a photo of Rachel and her daughter Susanna. Rachel lived to be 93 years old. She told the family Jacob was a full blooded Cherokee Indian. The family was told never to ask about it for they felt ashamed. I am assuming that ROSANNA RICHARDS was part Indian, perhaps WHITEHAIR family and that Rachel ended up with her children and raised them as her own. If that is so, then no one ever knew until now. Help me solve this mystery. Contact: Carol Marston, 2711 Valorie Lane, Midland, MI 48640 or e-mail: cmarston@bytethis.com.

3. I am looking for the parents of MARGARET "PEGGY" MCKINNEY, the second w/o my ggg grandfather, JOHN DENNISON. They were m. in Harrison Co., WV on Apr. 15, 1816. He d. Nov. 1824 at his home in Lost Creek. When his children sold the home on Feb. 8, 1845, Margaret was still living in the home. The marriage record in the Harrison County Courthouse does not give her parents names or her age. I have often wondered if she was a widow when they married. If anyone has knowledge about this MARGARET "PEGGY" MCKINNEY, could you please advise. Contact: Betty J. Haught, 116 Euclid Ave., Clarksburg, WV 26301.

4. Lowell Olinger, 28561 Revere Ave., Warren, MI 48092 seeks the following: MORTIMER CROSS b. 1864 Barbour Co., WV; d. 1917 Philippi, WV; m. ETTA KELLER 17 Jan. 1901; children: Tom, Grace, Beatrice, Delbert, Sarah, Ralph & Joseph.

- AMOS LOWELL b. 1888 OH. MR. CHARLES CHEVRONT had guardianship of Amos in 1900. Amos m. ORPHA CHEUVRONT b. 10 Sept. 1892; d. 10 Apr. 1968; m. 22 Apr. 1907 Clarksburg, WV; children: Charles, Kenneth, Eugene Harry & Donald.
- CHEVRONT: would like to exchange info with family members. There are a lot of Cheuvronts from WV to CA. Lets exchange starting with Joseph 1757.

4. If anyone knows where Jackson's Run or Bennetts Run in/near Lewis County, WV were located please contact HCPD.

- WILLIAM HARRIS m. March 17, 1851 to REBECCA WILLIAMS in Braxton Co. The had at least twelve children, including my gg grandmother, Alice. The family apparently moved some. There is a 1853 Lewis County Birth Record for one of their children being born at Hilly Upland Run. In 1860, they are in the Braxton Co. census. In 1866, another child is born at Hilly Upland Run and in 1868 one at Stone Coal Creek. They are still listed in Lewis Co. in the 1870 census, but in the 1872 Lewis Co. death records of two children and mother Rebecca, they are living at the "Waters of Hacker's Creek." Per Don Norman's family histories, in 1877 William remarried widow MARY ELIZABETH SMITH BARR (who had seven children of her own) and then had 3 more children. Looking for any info on William's ancestors, any of his children (including by the second marriage), and where William and Mary were after 1877.

- Looking for info on the construction of the TRANS-ALLEGHANY INSANE ASYLUM and the people who worked on it. My ggg grandfather OLIVER H P WASHBURN is known to have been in charge of the quarry in 1868 and probably worked there before and after that.
- OLIVER H P WASHBURN, b. 1830s in OH. Wife SUSAN ?, born in KY. Were at Finks Creek, Lewis Co. by 1854, when daughter COLUMBIA (married CHARLES A. STALNAKER) born there. Moved to Weston by 1856 when my gg grandfather JAMES born there. Other children named FLORENCE (married JAS. P. COLE) and CHARLES (believed to have stayed single). Looking for info on Oliver's parents or siblings, wife's maiden name, or descendants of James' siblings.
- Looking for information on the WILLIAMS family in Braxton County. My ggggg grandfather was JOHN WILLIAMS m. March 18, 1800 to MARY 'POLLY' BURNS (probably in Nicholas or Webster County). Listed in 1830 Lewis County census with probable father AMBROSE WILLIAMS and several sons incl., HUGH WILLIAMS (wife JANE HOWELL). John and Hugh are in 1840 & 1850 Braxton censuses.

11. PRUDENCE WILLIAMS m. NICHOLAS BUTCHER on April 1818 in Harrison Co. (she was his 3rd wife). I am searching for Prudence's maiden name and the name of her first husband _____ WILLIAMS.
